Outstanding Religious Leaders Of Today At General Conference

Sixteen of the outstanding religious leaders of today will be the principal speakers at the Northfield General Conference to be held here July 31 to August 16. Dr. Paul D. Moody, Pres. of Middlebury (Vt.) College and Presiding Officer of the Conference Committee has announced. Dr. Moody who is the son of D. L. Moody, famed evangelist and founder of The Northfield Schools and Conferences, also announced that the three closing days of the Conference, August 13 to 15, will be devoted to an observance of the D. L. Moody Centenary under the leadership of Dr. John McDowell, chairman of the Centenary Executive Committee and former Moderator of the Presbyterian Church. The Westminster Choir Summer School under the direction of Dr. John Finley Williamson will be in session during the General Conference and representatives of the Westminster Choir School at Princeton, N. J. will provide the conference music.

Among the speakers included in the announcement are: Dr. Adam W. Burnett, pastor of Westbourne Church, Glasgow, Scotland; President Henry Sloane Coffin of Union Theological Seminary; Dr. Paul E. Scherer, Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, New York; Dr. Howard Chandler Robbins, Professor General Theological Seminary, New York; Dean Lynn Harold Hough of Drew Theological Seminary; Dr. Frederick Norward of the National Free Church Council, London England and Dr. John Timothy Stone, President of Presbyterian Theological Seminary, Chicago.

Others are: Dr. J. V. Moldenhauer of the First Presbyterian Church, New York; Dean Luther A. Weigle of Yale Divinity School; Bishop James E. Freeman of Washington, D. C.; Professor Charles R. Erdman of Princeton Theological Seminary and Dr. Robert E. Speer of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. New to the Conference this year is the Rev. James S. Bezzant, Canon of Liverpool Cathedral, Liverpool England.

The Northfield Conference Season will open with an Evangelism Council under the leadership of Dr. John R. Mott to be held from June 12 to 25. The principal speaker will be President John S. Whale of Cheshunt College, Cambridge, England. Other sessions are: The Girls' Conference, June 25 to July 2; Missionary Conference July 7-15; Eastern U. P. Youth Conference, July 17-24; Conference of Religious Education, July 19-30; Westminster Choir School, July 26 to August 16 and the Mass. Christian Endeavor Conference, August 16-23. Special observances of the D. L. Moody Centenary will be made during all of the 1937 Conference periods.

Jordan - Constant

The marriage of Annette Constant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred J. Constant of Granby, to Paul G. Jordan of Northfield, was solemnized Saturday evening May first at the parsonage of Rev. Frank Curran at Granby, who officiated. The bridegroom was Miss Lena Glad of Aldenville. The best man was Alvin Josselin of Chicopee. The bride is a graduate of the Chicopee high school and was employed by the Dunbar Motor Co., of Springfield.

Mr. Jordan is the local representative of the Chevrolet Motor Co. The couple will reside in East Northfield and will soon be at home to their many friends.

The 16th annual state convention of the Business and Professional Women's clubs will be held in Holyoke, May 15 and 16. A large attendance is expected. Reports will be rendered and officers elected. A very fine list of speakers has been secured.

How It Happened; The Beginning Of The Youth Hostels

The Beginnings Of Youth Hostels In Our America

In 1911 the youth hostel idea was conceived by Richard Schirrmann, a school teacher in Westfalen, Germany. For a number of years Mr. Schirrmann had taken his school children from their factory town out into the country and the hills on hiking trips. Always one major difficulty faced them, where to spend the night. Peasants had offered barns and hay lofts, but this was no longer adequate for the demand. It was from this need that hostels arose.

Richard Schirrmann wrote an article about his idea. He sent it to all the "Teachers' Magazines" to no avail and had it rejected 20 times before the "Cologne Times" finally accepted it. As a result of this article he received hundreds of letters from enthusiastic readers, and finally had to have a special postman deliver his mail.

The 12th century castle at Altena was at that time being restored. Richard Schirrmann was the administrator of the District Museum located in the castle. He received permission to use a part of the castle for dormitories and called it a youth hostel, because it was to be open to all who were young in spirit. Youth hostels have retained this ideal and have never been bound by prejudice or partiality of any sort. Youth is the word which opens a hostel door.

It was not all smooth sailing, the inauguration of youth hostels in Germany. There were those who opposed it as a new idea, but it had many faithful supporters, and contributions of money, actual service and of hostels came pouring in. By the beginning of the war there were 200 hostels and 17,000 over nights a year. Now Germany

Howard - Smith

The wedding of Helyn E. Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrin E. Smith of New Britain, Conn., and Mr. John A. Howard, son of Mrs. E. F. Howard, took place on Saturday afternoon, May first at five o'clock in the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church in New Britain. Dr. William H. Alderson of Hempstead, L. I. officiated, assisted by Rev. Barton Bovee, pastor at Trinity.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an empire style gown of white silk net over satin, and veil of imported tulle caught in a garland of gardenias. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lily-of-the-valley with maiden-hair fern.

The bride's sisters were her only attendants. Miss Esther Louise Smith was maid-of-honor, and wore a gown of periwinkle blue embroidered net with hat to match and wore sherbert-pink accessories. She carried a spring bouquet. Miss Norma Smith (who is a student at the Seminary) attended as bridesmaid. She wore a gown of sherbert-pink net with hat to match and wore accessories in periwinkle blue. She also carried a spring bouquet.

Dr. Philip J. Howard of Detroit, Mich., was his brother's best man. The ushers were: Newton Howard, Bartlett, N. H., the groom's brother; Edward O. Smith, and Lester I. Smith, New Britain, brothers of the bride; Morton Newton, Detroit, Mich., Lester D. Olin, New York City, and A. Fay Smith, Leominster.

A short recital preceded the wedding ceremony. Miss Marian Keller, who is head of the Music department at the Seminary, played the organ, and Miss Evelyn Reffelt of New Britain sang "Because" and "Oh Perfect Love."

About two hundred guests were present at the wedding and reception which followed immediately in the reception parlors of the church. Many Northfield friends attended. The couple will spend the summer in Northfield with Mrs. E. F. Howard.

Do you remember the days of such experiences? The family expected a pleasant afternoon drive until something went wrong with the engine. Nothing like it these days with the modern automobile. Can you guess the family in the picture?

The Salvation Army Drive Uncompleted

While there has been a very prompt response to the letter of appeal sent out by the local Committee in charge of the Northfield Salvation Army appeal, the contributions at the Northfield Schools has been set for a deferred date and the campaign extended so that the usual local contributors who were still absent on their winter vacations might be heard from.

Send your contribution now by mail to William F. Hoch, Treasurer of the local fund. If check is used make payable to Salvation Army. The Salvation Army officer who spent a couple of days with the local committee has gone to New Haven on the campaign there. Contributions may also be left with the Chairman Ross L. Spencer.

Funds already subscribed have been sent in to the Central office of the Salvation Army in Boston and Mr. Nicoll in charge of the various campaigns makes an acknowledgement thanking the givers. All contributions will be acknowledged with a receipt at the close of the campaign. If you have not given and are willing to do so send your gift to the Treasurer without delay.

The Evangelistic Services Attracting

There is a splendid interest being taken in the series of evangelistic services being conducted by the Free Methodist church nightly in the Grange hall. The meetings will end Sunday evening. The evangelist is the Rev. Robert Burgess of Kalamazoo, Mich., who is the regional secretary of the Young People's Mission society of that denomination. He comes to Northfield after holding a series of meetings at Syracuse, N. Y. The song services are at 7:30 o'clock with a preaching service following. There will be a special young people's rally at 9:45 a.m. Saturday with a forum meeting at 2:30. At 6:45 the regular service on Sunday, Sunday school is at 10:30. A sermon on mothers' day at 11:30, a song service at three o'clock with a special service at 6:30 o'clock especially for the young people. Everyone is cordially invited to the services.

Women's Meeting Of The County Congregational Churches

The annual meeting of the women of the Congregational churches in Franklin county is called for Tuesday, May 11, at the Second church, Greenfield. A morning session at 10:30 will open with a devotional service, and business and reports will be given space. The outstanding event of the day is the address of the afternoon, given by the Rev. Alford Carleton, a missionary of the American Board, home on furlough from his work in Tarsus, Turkey. Since the subject for study in the coming year by church women of all denominations is to be the Moslem World this address will be most timely, and of special interest.

Mothers - Daughters Banquet Scheduled

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet of the Congregational church will be held in the vestry of the church next Monday evening. The gathering is scheduled for six o'clock and present indications are that there will be a large attendance. Mrs. William R. Moody has been secured as the speaker and a program of music will also be rendered.

Bishop William F. McDowell of the Methodist Episcopal church died at his home in Washington, D. C., Monday, April 26 at the age of 79 years. He was a leader in the cause of temperance, prohibition, and public morals.

Talk Summer Camp For The Girl Scouts

The Northfield Girl Scout council met at the home of Mrs. A. P. Pitt Monday evening and voted to assist the Brattleboro council in maintaining a summer camp at Marlboro. Camp Ornato on Shelter lake, eight miles north of Brattleboro which will accommodate 50 girls at a time. The Scout council hope to contribute a small sum of money toward the expense of each scout attending but in order to do this must expect the loyal support of the community.

The first effort to secure funds will be on the evening of Miss Bagley's dance recital, when the scouts will have punch for sale. On Saturday, May 22, a candy and cookie sale will be held at Buffum's store. Mr. F. H. Montague, Mrs. Sydney Given and Miss Sophie Servaes are the three new members added to the council. Mrs. Savche: resigned to become a Lieut. of Scouts. Mrs. Given is chairman of the camp committee and will be glad to give information and receive any donations.

The first contribution comes from the Fortnightly of fifteen dollars as a send off for the fund.

Highway Hearing

Upon petition of the Selectmen of Northfield, the County Commissioners will hold a public hearing in the commissioners' rooms at the Court house, Greenfield on Tuesday, May 11, at 10 a. m. on the layout of the road running from South Vernon to Mt. Hermon at Nelsons pond. It is proposed to make certain alterations in the present location in preparation for the construction of the new bridge which will take the place of the structure destroyed during the flood period of last year.

Held Holstein Sale

In the old live-stock pavilion on Vernon Road in Brattleboro about seventy-five head of pure bred Holstein-Friesian cattle were offered for public sale last Friday at the annual sale of the New England Association. A real demand was found for all of the cattle. Many attended from Northfield. The sale was in charge of Thomas E. Elder, President of the Association who formerly resided in Mount Hermon, but now makes his home at Alton, N. H. He is the Executive officer of the New England Association.

Loses Bank

Hinsdale will lose the valued services of the Keene National bank who for a quarter of a century has maintained facilities in that town at the clothing store of Young and Co. The local branch will be discontinued on June 1, according to notice.

Buckland expects a tax rates of $28 this year, but a definite announcement will be made later.

MOODY CENTENARY
1837-1937
OBSERVED THIS YEAR

The Summer Plans; Moody Centenary To Be Held Here

Plans for the closing months of the D. L. Moody Centenary have been announced by Dr. John McDowell, chairman of the Centenary Executive Committee after a week-end session of that body. Dr. McDowell, former Moderator of the Presbyterian church, said that a full schedule of events has been arranged starting with Alumni home-comings at Northfield Seminary and Mt. Hermon school in June and continuing through the entire Northfield summer conference season. The climax of the celebration will be a three day observance, Aug. 13 to 15 during the General conference when six of the country's outstanding Christian leaders will speak and when the annual Northfield Festival of Music will be held.

Another Centenary feature will be a council on Christian Evangelism to be held here June 21-25 under the leadership of Dr. John R. Mott, World Missionary executive. Commenting on this conference Dr. McDowell said: "For years the church has been giving promissory notes on the coming of a widespread revival of a genuine and practicable Christian evangelism. It is not the purpose of this council to give more notes but to begin to cash those already given."

For the three-day General conference celebration, opening Aug. 13, the theme will be "Christ and the Bible," and the speakers will expound the various phases of the general subject. Those who will speak and their subjects are:

Dr. John Timothy Stone, president of Presbyterian Theological seminary, "The Life of the Church"; Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, president of Union Theological Seminary, "The Life of Today"; Dr. Robert E. Speer of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, "The Life of Tomorrow"; Dean Luth A. Weigle of Yale Divinity school, "Education"; Dr. Charles R. Erdman of Princeton Theological Seminary, "The Life of the Individual"; and Bishop James E. Freeman of Washington, D. C., "The Life of the Nation."

Among those in attendance at the meeting were: Jerome Burt, former Massachusetts State Supervisor of schools; Miss Harriet Broad of Boston, a trustee of the Northfield Schools; Professor Frederick E. Newton of Andover; Mr. A. G. Moody nephew of the founder, and Mrs. Moody; Russell Blair of Boston, C. E. Field secretary; Miss Mabel E. Darragh of Springfield, and Albert E. Roberts, executive secretary of the Northfield Schools.

Other members of the committee who were present are: Stephen A. Stark and Carroll Rikert of Mount Hermon; Miss Doris Hopkins, Frank L. Duley, George McEwan, Lester A. Polhemus, and Frank W. Pearsall of Northfield seminary.

Inspector Here

Mr. J. N. Toole of the post office department, inspected the Northfield office on Wednesday and gave the office a rating of 96 per cent. Among other things he inspected the scales of the office and O. K'd them as being correct. This should satisfy those in town who have thought that the scales were wrong. He was very favorably impressed with the new quarters, and stated that Northfield is to be congratulated on having such an up-to-date equipped office.

Escapes Injury

The driver of a Vermont Pontiac sedan evidently fell asleep while on his way to work at Millers Falls on Monday near midnight and headed straight into a tree on the Northfield Farms road some distance north of Weatherhead's. He escaped serious injury although slightly cut and bruised. The car is a complete wreck and was towed to the Morgan garage.

night charge was, as it still is, 25 cents a night. The young people slept on straw mattresses, did their own cooking and pitched in to help make the hostel better for the next one. The first American hostel, as the first world hostel, was in a castle. In 1935 there were 35 youth hostels in New England, 1750 pass holders and 4000 overnights. During this summer 187 AYH pass holders had gone to Europe.

One of these groups had enough money left over from the $290 which each paid for the trip, to invite Richard Schirrmann to come to America, paying for his expenses over and back and a ten weeks visit in the States. It was a great privilege to have him advise and help the so newly conceived AYH, and he left many loyal friends, and splendid ideas and ideals behind him. In the meantime the Northfield hostel had been moved to its present location and during his stay it was dedicated as the "Richard Schirrmann International Youth Hostel."

Interest in the AYH grew rapidly, so that in 1936 there were 76 youth hostels, 4800 pass holders and over 9000 overnights. During the summer 827 hostellers went to Europe.

This last fall was filled with new activities and the realization of many projects. The first Fall Round-Up of house parents was held. It was well attended and considered a great success. The first work project, made up of Mount Holyoke and Haverford boys came to Northfield to help with the reconstruction work on the Headquarters building. It is expected that many "working holiday" groups will follow this example and thus make the improvement and expansion of the hostels possible.

Isabel and Monroe Smith left in November for their Western Coast trip to answer the requests for first hand information which had come to them from all over the country. Each stop over they made in a city, found them answering questions and queries from dawn to midnight, and wherever they went they left a strong of youth hostel enthusiasts.

As a result of this trip, a field worker's training course was planned to meet the demands of those who wanted to learn of the AYH from all angles and wanted to see it at work in order to be able to return eventually to their own communities and start chains of hostels. There were eleven in the training course, California, Seattle, Michigan and Missouri being represented as well as Eastern states.

Because of the tremendous increase in the office and routine work, the AYH staff has been increased to ten young people in addition to Isabel and Monroe Smith, the National Directors. Travel, Editorial and Publicity departments have been formed, and as spring grows into summer, their activities are rapidly increasing.

The most recent developments of the AYH can be seen in the summer plans. New hostels are springing up in New England. California has a trained field worker and will probably have hostels before the year is out.

Besides the European groups which are growing in popularity and number each year, there will be transcontinental groups traveling in rolling youth hostels. This is a pullman car arranged like a hostel with two divisions, one for the girl's sleeping quarters and one for the boy's, separate washrooms and two stoves for cooking. They do all their own work and travel for a cent a mile and a dollar a day living expenses. The cars will go to the Pacific coast through Canada, returning through the United States. They will be headquartered at all points of historical and scenic interest and the hostellers will take their bicycles from the baggage car and go on short trips.

It is hoped that rolling hostels will be the means of linking the East and West and that chains of hostels will be found in all parts of the country.

It was not long before foreigners traveling in Germany came in contact with the youth hostels. They returned enthused by the idea, and planned hostels for their own countries. Richard Schirrmann was consulted by the youth leaders as to how youth hostels should be introduced and established in their countries and he assisted them all willingly.

As the movement developed in many countries the idea materialized of making it possible for youth to travel, not only in his own country but also in foreign countries, by foot, bicycle, or canoe, and to find hostels at 15 mile intervals where he could spend the night for not more than 25 cents. To realize this idea and to unify all the hostels in the world, the International Conference of Youth Hostels was formed.

The first meeting was held in 1932 in Amsterdam, Holland. The heads of the movement from Germany, England, Holland, France, Denmark, Switzerland, and some other countries were there. Richard Schirrmann was elected President, and Mr. Deelen of Amsterdam, as General-Secretary. Every year this conference meets, made up of the leaders of all Youth Hostel.

At the 1936 conference in Copenhagen, 19 countries were represented. They were: Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Danzig, Denmark, England, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Holland, Ireland, Letland, Luxembourg, Norway, Poland, Scotland, Switzerland and the United States.

Perhaps the most important decision of this conference has been to make all passes uniform as to color and foreign stamp. They are renewable yearly on payment of a certain small fee. This enables a pass holder in any country to use hostels, without extra assessments, in any country belonging to the Youth Hostel Conference.

The conception of a youth hostel in all these countries is that expressed by the National Park Service as follows:

"1. A Youth Hostel is a facility for travel. It is a building with separate sleeping rooms for girls and boys, separate wash rooms and toilet facilities, a common kitchen and a common dining room, a common recreational room, and private quarters for hostel parents. In charge of it is a house father and house mother.

2. Youth hostels are established in loops so that young people may travel and get acquainted with each other and their country. It takes them "away from four walls and paved street" into the open where they may discover the beauties of their country, climb the mountains, swim the lakes, visit places of historic and national interest, and make friends with other young people of similar interests.

3. Youth hostels are for those who like to travel by foot or bicycle, (horseback or canoe), who like to live ruggedly or simply, who enjoy cooking their own meals, and who wish to or must travel economically.

4. Youth hostels enable all existing youth movements in a country to enjoy this facility without discrimination as to race or creed. The hostel is a facility and not a program.

Girl Scouts

Troop 1, Ellen Giebel, scribe, says they had a meeting Tuesday, dividing into two groups. One went out with Mrs. Saverance to study birds and another to the library to study flowers with Mrs. Vorce.

Troop 2, Arlene Dunnell, scribe, says that the tenderfoot scouts arranged for taking 2nd-class exams. At the meeting last Thursday, they also arranged for the Flag test and fire prevention test. Second-class girls visited with Miss Parrington for exams.

Miss Florence Warriner, now of Brattleboro spent last Sunday with friends here.

INTERESTING ITEMS

It now looks as if the new bridge from Turners Falls to Gill (Riverside) will soon be constructed. The additional funds needed have been secured from the Federal Government and it is expected that the contract will go to the lowest bidder, O'Connell Sons, Inc., of Holyoke. The bid figure was $860,567.

From Heath comes word that the tax rate for this year will be $34 and from Charlmont it is expected to be $31.60.

Howard C. Laduke, Chief of Police of Brattleboro has been an obliging official and many from Northfield have come to learn of his obliging character through the parking of cars in that town with limited periods. Now Mr. Laduke goes with the state through his appointment as a special investigator of the state detective force.

Williamstown is expecting a tax rate of $28 or two dollars less than last year.

N. Y. World's Fair Gets Under Way; Employs Local Woman

The New York World's Fair, 1939, has a special significance for residents of Northfield for one of the secretaries in the office of Commander Howard A. Flanagan, administrative assistant, is Mrs. Thomas Malbon, a former Northfield girl.

The Fair, which will open on April 30, 1939, is one of the really important events of the decade. One of the outstanding things about the Fair will be the Theme Building which is so unusual that new words had to be coined in order to describe it.

The Perisphere will look like a big white bubble and give the effect of floating on water from a distance. At night colored lights will play on it until it seems to be revolving. Visitors approaching the Fair grounds will see the tall white tower which is the Trylon as the advance toward the entrances. It will be a beacon, a mecca and plans are being made to have it the voice of the Fair.

Ten thousand trees and hundreds of thousands of shrubs and flowering bulbs and annuals will be planted between now and the opening day, thus insuring beauty and comfort during the period of the Fair. The site will be made into a permanent park and the Marine Amphitheatre, which is to be built at one end of the large lagoon, will be part of the park.

The New York World's Fair will transform the Flushing Meadows, long an eyesore, into a place of enchantment during the time in which it is open.

The summer of 1939 should find many New Englanders coming to New York during vacation. The Fair will be an exposition which few will want to miss and which all will remember with pleasure for many years to come. It will portray a new world—one to which the visitor can look forward with few, if any, misgivings.

The Board of Organized Work of Franklin County hospital will hold the annual county luncheon on June 7 at the Weldon hotel. The various chairmen of the county towns will be invited to attend the meeting.

The Alliance of the Unitarian church will hold a food sale on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock on the lawn of the church.

LOCALS

The speaker next Sunday in Memorial Chapel at Mount Hermon will be Rev. Luther Tucker, assistant minister of Christ Church of Cambridge. He will speak both morning and at vespers.

The "Hermonite" issued as a literary number last Friday smaller in size than the regular edition but of eight pages. The articles were by students of the school.

A joint planning conference of all agencies is to be held at Westfield on Saturday in the Woman's Club house and the Editor who is an advisory member of the New England Regional Planning Commission representing Northfield has been invited to attend. Mr. Hoehn will also represent the town.

The Greenfield Tap & Die has good news for its stockholders in the form of a $1.50 dividend on its preferred payable May 15 to stock of record April 29.

The second diphtheria clinic will be held at the town hall tomorrow Saturday with Dr. Dean from 10 to 11:30 o'clock and at Gill in the town hall from 3 to 4 and at Riverside from 4 to 5 with Dr. Wright.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of Northfield Farms held a card party at the library last week Friday evening, attended by members and friends. A cafeteria luncheon was served.

George Lombard who suffered a bad fall while doing work on the construction of the Merrill-Keep Hall on the Seminary campus last week, is resting comfortably at the Farren Memorial Hospital where he will remain for some time. He suffered a fractured hip.

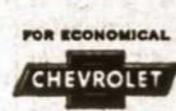

The Avery cottage on Linden Ave., which has been closed for several years is being made ready for occupancy. Electric light is being installed as well as all modern conveniences and many improvements are being added. The house is to be rented for the summer fully furnished.

The annual inspection of Rural mail routes is now in progress. Any suggestions for the improvement of the rural service locally, would be appreciated by the post office staff.

ARTHUR CLARK SAYS:

"Electricity saves the Clark family many dollars every year. It sure is great to know that the best fuel is also the most economical."

The Clarks live on Greenfield Road in Deerfield. Theirs is an all-electric home. Mr. Clark is a bookkeeper with a modest income. There are six in their family. Here are the electric appliances which they use:

Electric RANGE
Electric REFRIGERATOR
Washing Machine
Two Radios
Sewing Machine

Vacuum Cleaner
Electric Pump
Toaster
Iron
Lights—house and barn

How much does it cost the Clark Family to Live Electrically

THEIR MONTHLY ELECTRIC BILL IS BETWEEN

$7 and $8

The Clarks are wise. They know that the more electricity they use the less it costs per kilowatt-hour. Hence they have made their home all-electric and take advantage of the lower rates for increased usage.

WRITE for a free copy of the "ELECTRA-DIAL", which shows (by simply turning a dial) how much it would cost YOU to operate additional electrical appliances in YOUR home.

Radio Inspires Musical Growth Of America

RADIO has set in motion forces which have inspired the musical growth of the nation, declares Antonio Modarelli, conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and composer of a number of operas and symphonic poems.

"There has been much comment to the effect that radio would destroy musical taste, that people would be content to sit at home and tune in; that they wouldn't go to concert halls," said Modarelli, who will discuss "Musical America" when making a guest contribution on the "Heinz Magazine of the Air," May 3rd, over CBS at 11 a.m. (E.D.T.)

"The truth is far otherwise," said the noted conductor. "Today we have, by a huge margin, more music-lovers, more fine artists, more actual concerts given, more children and grownups studying at home than ever before in history. New symphony orchestras are being organized in smaller cities where there were none before; those already established are being forced to seek larger halls."

"Radio has helped transform us into the most cultural musical nation in the world," stated Modarelli, "and while it has not worked this miracle alone, it has inspired people who have listened to good music on the radio to make the effort to go to the nearest concert hall to hear symphonies and operas and recitals by singers and instrumentalists."

The radio has another profound effect. With the custom of introducing serious symphonic works with informal, intimate comments on the music and composer, the old feeling that the great composers were all dim, remote figures, has disappeared.

"We carry intimate pictures of them around with us—the pathetic figure of the deaf Beethoven on a walk in the country, passing by, unheeding, a group of musicians piping out rural ditties that might have given him the inspiration for another great symphony; Wagner, dreaming of Parsifal and the ring in the garden of Wahnfried or the frail figure of Mozart who expressed so well the laughter and gaiety of the courtly society of his day," added the composer.

Modarelli, who is a native Pittsburgher, began his study of music at the Dana Musical Institute in Ohio. During the World War he was a bandmaster in the American naval forces. Later while studying in Berlin he wrote the operas "Hans Frei" and "Saknialis", the ballet-pantomime, "Ocean Flight" and the symphonic poems "September" and "Christo Botoff". Modarelli has been conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra since 1930. Last year he led his assembly in a series of radio broadcasts.

SEMINARY ITEMS

PRIZE CONTEST

Mr. Thomas J. Foster of Ridgewood, N. J., a trustee of the Northfield Schools, has offered $30 in prizes for Interior Decorating plans to be used in the new Merrill-Keech dormitory. Plans for decorating the living room and a typical student room are included in the contest. Contestants are divided into two classes: Class A, students who have taken or who are now taking the courses in Interior Decoration; Class B, students who have had no formal instruction in Interior Decoration. There will be first and second prizes in each division. This contest will close Saturday, May 15.

BADMINTON CONTEST

In the final contest of the Faculty Badminton tournament Tuesday night, May 4, Miss Grace Field defeated Miss Jean Allen to win the championship. There were about twenty entries in the tournament.

MISS HOPKINS RETURNS

Miss Doris Hopkins of the Northfield Seminary Alumnae association has returned from her spring visit to Northfield clubs. Her itinerary included: Ithaca, Syracuse, Binghamton, Rochester, and Buffalo, New York; Oberlin, Cleveland, Columbus, and Cincinnati, Ohio; Chicago, Detroit, Washington, Baltimore, Wilmington, and Philadelphia. Miss Hopkins reports great interest in the D. L. Moody Centenary celebration.

TEA FOR STUDENTS

Tuesday afternoon, May 4, the Alumnae association was hostess at a tea for high school graduates who are taking a year's course at the Seminary. The students first went to the Alumnae office where they became acquainted with the files and maps showing Northfield Seminary Alumnae living in almost every country in the world. Miss Mary Field '91 took the girls through the Birthplace with its many interesting reminders of D. L. Moody, after which tea was served. Miss Helen Wright, class teacher, poured. The tea was arranged by the Alumnae association membership committee which includes: Miss Euphrasia Purrington '25; Mrs. Bernice Flint Berry '14-'16; and Mrs. John A. Howard '31.

ART EXHIBIT

The fourth group in a series of 48 paintings by living American artists is now on display in Talcott library. These groups of paintings have been of great interest to the students.

DICKINSON EXHIBIT

A valuable exhibit of Emily Dickinson's books has been loaned to Talcott library by Professor Lewis Knap of Williams College. The exhibit is similar to one loaned the Seminary library by the Jones library in Amherst four years ago. There are six volumes of poetry among which are: one very rare first English edition, published in 1891; one first edition of the second series of poems; and one 16th edition of the first series. A copy of the first edition of "The Single Hound," published in 1914 is probably the most valuable volume in the collection. There is a copy of the first limited edition of "Further Poems," published in 1929, and a first edition of her "Letters" which was published in 1890, and a volume called "Masque of Poets" in which one of Miss Dickinson's poems, "Success," was anonymously printed.

The last volume is one of the ten specially bound bibliographies of Emily Dickinson's work published by Yale University in 1930.

SUNDAY, MAY 9

There will be no morning service in Russell Sage Chapel on Sunday, because of the Sacred Concert rehearsal to be held that afternoon. There will be a vesper service on Round Top.

CHAPEL SPEAKER

Mrs. Lawrence Thurston, formerly president of Ginling college in Nanking, China, who is visiting Mrs. A. G. Moody, spoke in the morning chapel service, Thursday.

HOMEMAKERS' DAY

Tuesday, May 25th, the Homemakers of Franklin County will meet at the Grange Hall in Greenfield for an all day program from 10 to 3:30 o'clock. On the program will be a presentation of the experience of Northfield in putting on school lunches by Miss Euphrasia Purrington our local town and school nurse. Many other subjects will be discussed and the meeting promises to be of much interest. Several from Northfield are expected to attend. All homemakers whether identified with the extension work or not are welcome to attend the meeting. Other subjects to be considered are 4-H work, home furnishings, rug making, and nutrition.

HERMON ITEMS

TRACK DEDICATION

Mount Hermon's new track will be dedicated Saturday afternoon, May 8, at 2:00 o'clock when the third annual meet between Mount Hermon and Deerfield Academy will take place. This 1-4 mile track should be a fast one and one well-suited to handle any school boy meets. It is unique among preparatory school tracks in that it has a 220 yard straightaway.

HOBBY SHOW

Beginning Wednesday, May 12, and continuing over the weekend, the basement of Schaufler Memorial library will be devoted to display of the varied and interesting hobbies of the students and faculty. The show last year was a tremendous success and it is hoped that entries this year will be of equal originality and variety. Already several students and members of the faculty have entered their collections in the show. Franklin B. Mayer, a junior from Erie, Pa., who is helping to direct this year's show, announced that anything from match covers to battleships would be acceptable. Ribbons will be awarded to Hobby entries on the basis of effort, originality, and presentation.

PARENTS' WEEK-END

Parents' week-end at Mount Hermon will be May 15-16 this year. Events scheduled include the following: Acceptance of 16 seniors into the Cum Laude society; Father and Son golf tournament; tennis matches between 17 Junior League Hermonites and 17 boys from Eaglebrook school; inter-class track meet and try-outs for the Amherst interscholastic meet on May 31; and the Hobby Show. The climax of the week-end will be the Sacred Concert on Sunday afternoon.

CUM LAUDE

Sixteen Mount Hermon seniors will be accepted into Cum Laude society, national honorary society for secondary schools on Parents' Day, May 15. The Cum Laude key is awarded only at schools with a rating high enough to have a chapter installed by the national society. Grades must be maintained for two years before graduation to place candidates in the highest fifth of their class. All candidates are considered carefully for good conduct and all-around scholastic excellence. The new members are: Chester G. Alton, Richard C. Ames, Frederick G. Barlow (1937 Salutatorian), J. Gordon Bennett, George E. Bliss, Rolfe L. Carmean, Ruthven S. Chalmers, Stuart E. Crapser, George Davidson, H. Eugene Hungerford, Jr., Loran Lewis IV, Gershon R. Makepeace, Robert G. Porter, David H. Sherman, Richard L. Stimson, and Robert G. Van Peursem (1937 Valedictorian).

Mrs. Anne S. Morrow, Dr. Paul J. Braisted, and Mr. Roy R. Hatch of the Mount Hermon faculty have also been elected to become members of the Cum Laude society.

CORNELL PROFESSOR

Professor Arthur A. Allen of the department of Ornithology at Cornell University will give an illustrated lecture on Birds at Camp Hall this Friday evening at 8:15. Professor Allen is the father of Phoebe Allen a Seminary student living at Center Gould.

FACULTY RETREAT OPEN

The Snow House, a week-end retreat for faculty members, is now open to groups who wish to go there for suppers, breakfasts, teas or overnight. Miss Cribner is to be the resident caretaker, and the house is available to faculty members at a few hours' notice. There is a unique living room in the house which has been completely panelled with panelling taken from a century-old Northfield house.

Captures Young Hawk

It is reported in the news from Sunderland, that Mrs. Nellie W. Russ caught a young hawk in her hands while it was pursuing a chipping sparrow. It turned out to be a sparrow hawk which usually grows to be about eight to nine inches in length. This story can be matched with the one reported here last year when Mrs. Frank N. Ray of Providence who resides in their summer home here on Myrtle Street during the season, picked up a young sparrow hawk on the highway in one of its first attempted flights. The bird has been cared for ever since and is thoroughly domesticated and kept in a portion of the porch properly screened. A small denuded tree set in its enclosure affords a resting place. The hawk is carnivorous and feeds on raw meat or small mice, and will take its food from the hand. It is very tame and friendly to all visitors.

EDITORIAL

A bill which would bar married women from occupying public positions in this state now seems certain of passage. The Legislature passed its second reading by a vote of 85 to 40. No woman thus situated will be retained in service and none accepted unless it is proven that her husband cannot support her. This ideal maintains in many states especially in the profession of teaching and now even business men are concluding that the practice of both husband and wife being employed is unjust and unfair to the ranks of those who find themselves in the unemployed class.

From news in the press and the mutterings of Democratic politicians it looks as if James Roosevelt will be a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts in 1938. "Jimmie" has been much in the limelight in the state during the past two campaigns of his father for President and he has become pretty well known. However, during all this period he has been quite an absentee from the state and it is perhaps on his prestige only that he and his friends for him, hope to capture the Democratic nomination. With a good popular candidate put up by the Republicans "Jimmie" will not find it so easy sailing as did his father in capturing an alluring prize.

The labor agitators are after Henry Ford. They act a whole lot as if they were tackling a porcupine. Ford has always led the world in short hours and high wages. He has public good will. It is freely admitted that he is apt to do the unpredictable thing.

ASLEEP AT THE SWITCH

As a forthright American citizen, he will probably never take orders from either political or labor dictators. He has ample warrant for undertaking to teach ingratitude a lasting lesson.

More New Stamps

The Postoffice Department announces a new stamp in the Army-Navy series will be placed on sale the last week of this month. It will be of the five cent denomination. The Army stamp has a view of the Military Academy as its central design, while the Navy stamp has a reproduction of the official seal of the Naval Academy. Both Postmasters Skilton and Quinal have made a request for a supply.

Liberals don't have to be fools to prove their liberalism. If you examine the crop of bills introduced in some of the legislatures this year, it is hard to avoid the impression that in 1937, at any rate, many well-intentioned people are somewhat soft about the head. Distinguished liberals seem to be so afraid someone may suspect the purity of their purposes that they refuse to think.

But I see plenty of shrubs going into the ground, and it certainly is a good idea to get 'em in. And that reminds me of one thing I saw at the nursery I was telling you about. When I commented on the brown color of his garland flowers he showed me hundreds of them in a cold storage all balled up and ready for sale.

If you are looking for an excellent shrub—in fact, a beautiful shrub—let me recommend garland flowers. The botanical name I believe is daphne cneorum. This is a little shrub which seldom gets more than 8 or 12 inches in height, but it spreads out nicely. According to what I can discover it grows best in a sandy, well drained, and sunny location. It has rose pink blossoms and it blossoms not only in the spring, but you get a second bloom toward autumn, although it isn't quite so profuse. It makes a beautiful edging plant.

I might also say that while it stands most winters, it is best to give it some protection. In fact 10 degrees below zero is supposed to kill it, although I've always kept mine pretty well protected so couldn't say whether 10 degrees below would finish it or not.

And another little plant I'd like to recommend is the genista. This in its regular climate I imagine would be a mighty nice shrub, but I found it in a florist shop this spring and it certainly makes a very attractive houseplant. Another common name is Easter broom, while the botanical name is cytisus racemosus. I understand that the genus name cytisus is taken from the Greek word which means a kind of clover. Well, anyway the plant has woody stems which produce loose spikes of bright yellow flowers which look like the sweet pea flower. It blooms along this time of the year, perhaps a little earlier, but the beautiful part of it is that it keeps blooming over several weeks.

When warm weather comes you can set it out in the garden and take it in again in the fall because it won't stand our cold winters. You see that's why I call it house plant rather than a shrub. In the house it should never be allowed to dry out, and it is a good idea to put it in a cool place at night, also to give it a good washing occasionally to freshen it up.
